Letter of Reference for CORY CONWAY

To Whom It May Be of Concern:

Two years ago, on August 19, at the Carbondale Seventh Avenue train station, I met Cory, as we both waited for a Steamtown heritage train to arrive in Carbondale for a community celebration. I knew immediately that he embodied two important and positive qualities: (1) an interest in history, and (2) the capacity for positive participation in community programs.

Since that time, as a volunteer, he has actively participated in archival management projects (D&H archives and exhibits) and collections enrichment projects on a very high level. Notably, and significantly, he initiated a video documentary project, the proceeds of which went to the benefit of the restoration fund for D&H caboose 35964 in the Historical Society's holdings. Specifically, under his direction as project manager, a first-class documentary video, highlighting American Locomotive Company diesel engines (ALCo Thunder Returns to Carbondale), was produced on schedule and sold at the Historical Society and at Steamtown USA.

In addition, his talent for museum management has been repeatedly demonstrated by the exhibition displays he has organized and presented in the D&H Transportation Museum's exhibition galleries in Carbondale City Hall.

At all times, he manifests an excellent talent for interacting successfully with a wide range of persons in a broad range of activities. He is an intelligent, easy-going, well-mannered, relaxed guy, with a special talent for guiding and directing others in the successful completion of complex tasks and activities.
